THE CONTEMPORARY CHINA STUDIES PROGRAMME IS A UNIQUE LEARNING EXPERIENCE FOR EUROPEAN STUDENTS WHO ARE CURIOUS ABOUT THE CULTURES AND LIFESTYLES OF ASIA, WHO WANT TO STUDY AT A WORLD-CLASS UNIVERSITY AND WHO WISH TO EXPLORE THE WORLD OF BUSINESS IN CHINA IN A TRULY FASCINATING YET INTERNATIONAL AND ACCESSIBLE ENVIRONMENT.....

WHY CHOOSE CCSP ?

REASON 1: SHANGHAI IS AMAZING

Shanghai is one of the most exciting cities in the world today. The city is at the epicenter of the unprecedented Chinese surge towards economic development, technological innovation and cultural renaissance. Shanghai is where East meets West and where the old and new merge in spectacular fashion. No effort is spared to show that Shanghai has become one of the most marvelous and vibrant metropolises of this world. And with one million foreign residents, Shanghai boasts state-of-the-art international facilities, and boundless opportunities to make new friends, build professional networks and explore future employment opportunities. A semester in Shanghai is great for your CV. No wonder Shanghai is rapidly becoming one of the world's most popular study destinations for international students.

“ Fudan is a very nice university, a place where you feel home immediately. And the best about it, It is situated in the most glorious and coolest city I've ever been to! ”

Lisa Werkgarner

REASON 2: WORLD - CLASS UNIVERSITY

CCSP is taught in collaboration with Fudan University, one of the most prestigious, research-oriented universities in China. In the most recent QS ranking of world universities, Fudan University is ranked as the 1st university in Shanghai and 40th worldwide. There are 30.000 students at Fudan, including 5.000 international students. The School of Social Development and Public Policy is one of the global strongholds in teaching and research in the social sciences. Its international partners include Harvard University, London School of Economics and Political Science, Trinity College and many others. Ten percent of the School's students are international students, from the US, Canada, Japan, UK, Germany, France, Italy and the Nordic countries. CCSP lecturers have extensive experience doing academic research and teaching at prominent universities in China and abroad, such as Harvard University, University of Chicago, University of Washington-Seattle, and GeorgiaTech. Local business leaders and professional experts from various organizations are invited to present case studies.

REASON 3: COMBINE THEORY & PRACTICE

The Contemporary China Studies Programme provides students a unique opportunity to learn about and experience present-day China during an exciting one-semester study abroad programme that carries ECTS credits for your study programme at home. With CCSP, you have a choice of Chinese language courses, English-taught academic courses on a variety of topics as well as an internship in a local organization or multinational company. In combination with regular group excursions and social activities introducing you to traditional Chinese culture, CCSP is a multi-disciplinary academic programme that provides in-depth theoretical and practical perspectives on China's emerging status as a global power.

“ Fudan University is ranked as the best university in Shanghai, which makes it popular among both Chinese and foreign students. Therefore, you are able to go to class with people from all over the world and this is really beneficial for your education and personal development in order to understand different cultures. ”

Simone Filsoe Wendt

“ I have got the intercultural network of friends from all over Europe and Shanghai. I couldn't imagine a better way to spend a semester abroad. ”

PROGRAMME

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

As part of CCSP, you may choose any combination of language and academic courses and internship on offer, with a maximum study load of the equivalent of 30 ECTS. You will be asked to make a preliminary selection during the application process, however, your final selection can be made a week into the programme, after you have had a chance to sit in on any of the courses of your interest. In case you need CCSP credits for your studies at home, we strongly recommend that you consult your home university on your course selection before the start of the programme.

“ I found the education here to be way more interesting than at home, because of the smaller classes, and the international discussions we are able to have. ”

Tobias Torp Vistesén

“ Staying at Fudan University was the right choice. I am positively surprised about the applied teaching methods. ”

ACADEMIC COURSES

Academic courses on topics ranging from contemporary Chinese culture and society, economy, business and marketing to Chinese politics, diplomacy, religion and psychology are all taught in English. All courses are taught for one period of 2 or 3 hours per week, using an effective mix of teaching methodologies, as well as Chinese and Western study materials.

LANGUAGE COURSE

Language courses are offered by licensed Fudan University language teachers in small class settings at beginners and intermediate level. Placement takes place based on your Chinese language proficiency, which is tested at the start of the programme.

INTERNSHIP

CCSP students are given the unique option to do an internship in a local or international business or non-profit organisation in Shanghai. The internship is available as a one or two days per week work placement during the semester, or as a one-month fulltime assignment at the end of the programme. Internship placement services are provided by Fudan University. Doing an internship in Shanghai provides an invaluable opportunity to gain working experience in a global environment, practical exposure to the world of business and management in China, and the chance to develop unique professional and personal skills.

“ The programme provides you with valuable knowledge necessary if you want to deal with Chinese business partners or setting up a business in China. You have the possibility to spend time with your professors outside of classes and engage in brainstorming on your own business ideas. ”

Tomas Bucek

SERVICES & STUDENT LIFE

ORIENTATION & EXCURSIONS

To ensure a flying start to your China experience, CCSP starts with an extensive orientation programme, aimed to make you familiar with the university, with Shanghai and of course with your fellow CCSP students. Fudan University student buddies will welcome you at the airport, deliver you to your student dorm and take you on campus and city tours. We will assist you to register at the university, apply for your residence permit, arrange your local medical insurance, get you your local SIM card, get online and generally get settled. Throughout the semester, CCSP offers regular student activities and excursions to places of interests in and around Shanghai.

ACCOMMODATION

CCSP students are offered accommodation in apartments at Tohee International Student Village, which is located adjacent to the Fudan University campus. The Village is home to a large number of international students from all over the world. A standard Tohee apartment has 2 or 3 bedrooms with 1 or 2 bathrooms, a living/dining room, kitchen, balcony, Wifi, television, washing machine and fridge. All rooms are single occupancy.

STUDENT LIFE

As an international student at Fudan, you have access to any of the student associations at the university, as well as to all its other facilities such as canteens, libraries and sports venues. Off campus, you will quickly find that student life in Shanghai is amazingly exciting and diverse, yet convenient and safe. As one of the biggest and modern metropolitan cities, Shanghai never sleeps. It is a melting pot of oriental and western cultures, of old and new traditions. Shanghai offers you myriad options when it comes to entertainment, shopping, bars and restaurants, sightseeing, concerts and shows. It is quite possible to live a life very similar to that in any major European metropolis. You can also choose to live like the locals. Chinese food is good and cheap. The local shops sell all sorts of things you will never find in Europe, often inexpensive. You are unlikely to leave Shanghai without a perfectly tailored business suit or pair of handmade leather shoes at a fraction of what you would pay in Europe! China's advanced transportation system makes it very easy and affordable to travel outside of Shanghai to see the Great Wall in Beijing or the pandas in Sichuan province.

“ During my study abroad in Shanghai, CCSP took great care of us. Not only did they facilitate our admission to Fudan University, they also warmly welcomed us and ensured we would have a great time throughout the entire semester. An enriching stay in Shanghai – socially, educationally and culturally. Lots of new friends and memories for life.”

Mathias Egelund

HOW TO APPLY

CCSP is geared towards European students who are registered at a recognized university or college in Europe at undergraduate (2nd year or above) or Master level. The programme is open for candidates from a wide range of academic disciplines. For the language and academic courses, no previous academic knowledge is required. Applicants must have fluent English language proficiency, however, IELTS or TOEFL are not required. Knowledge of Chinese is not required either.

The CCSP has a Spring and Fall semester intake. The spring semester starts in late February 2018 and runs until mid-June. The autumn semester starts in the first week of September and runs until just before Christmas. A three-day orientation programme is held right before the start of the semester.

“ When you join the Fudan foreign student “family” you get a buddy student who is familiar with nearly everything you have a question about. With that, you not only get a helping hand, but also you get a local friend. ”

Christian Riedel

The application deadline is Nov 30, 2017 (for Spring 2018) and May 31, 2018 (for Fall 2018).

“ CCSP offers a wide range of subjects which in perfect symbiosis provide you with an insight into how China acts as country, culture, political power and economy. It will be a journey you will never forget! ”

Kristian Aagard

“ After this semester I go home with a lot of new knowledge about China! A lot of amazing experience, pictures and memories of beautiful places and with friends all over the world! ”

Ira Schaeffers

“ I recommend the programme to all students who have an interest in Chinese culture and China's economy, who have an entrepreneurial mindset and likes to experience a first-rate student life. I gained fundamental knowledge about the Chinese business environment, got a sense of my skills to succeed in China. ”

Eric Geraci

“ Go! Simply go! This international, pulsating metropolis is full of life! A renowned university in a rapidly growing, modern city with culture and inspiring developments offers many opportunities to develop yourself. From cultural offerings to nightlife, there's something for everyone. I have learned unbelievably much from all the benefits this programme offers. ”

Clara Jaeger

“ I am sad my time is almost over, and I strongly encourage everyone to consider the CCSP programme in Shanghai – you will not regret it! ”
